Summary of Legislation: (Amended) The bill provides that the purchaser of a certificate of sale at a tax sale may enter the property at a reasonable time to: (1) inspect the property; (2) perform reasonable repairs or rehabilitation on the property; and (3) perform any act necessary to abate a public nuisance. The bill provides that the expenditures made by the purchaser in taking these actions are included in the cost of redeeming the property.

The bill also provides that certain costs of enforcing the unsafe building law for a particular property become a lien on the property of an officer, a manager, or a director of the property owner or a shareholder, a partner, a member, or another person owning more than a 10% interest in the property owner. It also provides that in certain eminent domain proceedings initiated by a redevelopment commission, the determination of the fair market value of the property must take into account certain costs and factors.

The bill specifies the costs to be considered in the appraisal of property under certain eminent domain proceedings initiated by a redevelopment commission. It also allows all counties to use a provision currently applicable only to the Metropolitan Development Commission in Marion County that allows the county to acquire certain property at tax sales for redevelopment purposes.

Effective Date: July 1, 2005.

Explanation of State Expenditures:

Explanation of State Revenues:

Explanation of Local Expenditures: (Revised) Tax Sales: This provision will allow counties to acquire properties, on which taxes are delinquent and are considered unsafe buildings, for redevelopment purposes. This provision could lead to such properties being placed back on the property tax rolls more promptly.

Eminent Domain Proceedings: The bill also includes various expenses, such as fees and construction costs, and specific conditions that must be included in an appraisal that is made for the purpose of an eminent domain proceeding. Such factors could affect a property's fair market value. The fiscal impact of the provision will vary depending on the difference in appraised values.

Explanation of Local Revenues: See Explanation of Local Expenditures.
